New Barriere Trails Society is hard at work

By Hettie Buck
North Thompson Star/Journal

The newly formed Barriere Trails Society (BTS) is attracting new members and also some donated time, equipment and materials to kick off this first season of trail work by the society.

On April 23 and 24, Ryan Fadear from Fadear Sand and Gravel in Barriere donated a machine and gravel to the Glentanna Ridge Trail project the society is focused on. President of the society, Harry Waldron, explained in a short time, the society has volunteered over 150 man hours and multiple machine hours to clean up and FireSmart Glentanna Ridge Trail.

"It already has an urban forest trailhead with trees for summer shade and a majestic view of our town," said Waldron.

Waldron and his wife, Connie, moved to Barriere from the Lower Mainland

The newly formed Barriere Trails Society met on April 23 and 24 to work on the Glentanna Ridge Trail project just off Dunn Lake Road. Fadear Sand and Gravel, Gilbert Smith Forest Products Ltd., Lower North Thompson Community Forests Society and volunteers all contributed to the project creating a picnic area, signage and level starting point at the trailhead. The Barriere Trails Society's vision is "to build, promote, and maintain trails in and around Barriere. We strive to connect our communities and to enhance our citizens and visitors outdoor recreation opportunities." The BTS encourages non-motorized activities like walking, cycling, bird watching, and hiking, to connect the community to outdoor recreation in the area.

Recently the Lower North Thompson Community Forest Society (LNTCFS) donated two picnic tables for use at the Glentanna trailhead along with Fadear Sand and Gravel's generous donation of 40 yards of gravel and two days of machine time. Local, Cory Jensen assisted in doing the initial leveling and root removal with his tractor and Gilbert Smith Forest Products Ltd. donated lumber for trail signs and additional projects. The two picnic tables soon to arrive from LNTCFS are not yet in place but will be installed at the start of the Glentanna trail just off Dunn Lake Road. BTS director Ben Thiesen has given the group permission to develop the trail and picnic area on his land.

The society meets on the first Wednesday of the month at 6:30 p.m. at the Station House Restaurant in Barriere and welcomes new member volunteers. If you are interested in joining the society or becoming a supporter contact president Harry Waldron at: harry.waldron@hotmail.com or via phone 604-791-3668.
